

Edmac Update

Edmac Move to New Warehouse!

We will also be moving to a larger warehouse starting Thursday July 18th. Strong growth and a recent acquisition of Woodward Compressor Sales has meant that we need a larger space. Our new warehouse and office space is twice as big as our currently location. We plan to move over the weekend or outside regular work hours, doing everything we can to minimize disruption, but please let us know if you see any delays or potential problems to your business. We should be back to regular business on Monday, July 22nd.

The move to the new warehouse will also greatly increase our shipping and receiving capabilities for our aftermarket and OEM products in order to fulfill our guarantee of fast, efficient deliveries. Thank you for understanding the necessary changes that allow us to better serve you and ensure that your air compressor returns to pristine condition as soon as possible. We appreciate your loyalty with us at Edmac!
