

Your Search Ends Here

Edmac Premium Lubricants

At Edmac, we understand how important oil is to your business. It's like the oxygen supply for industrial equipment, critical to its longevity and working performance. It's also the last thing many companies want to change or meddle with; if it isn't broke then don't fix it. We understand and respect that, but we would welcome the chance to prove to you the Edmac difference.

In all our product categories we also offer different variants. Depending on the temperature and service intervals we have a good, better, best range in all of our products. There is no such thing as a one size fits all.

Product Development

Edmac lubricants have been designed specifically for the applications they serve. Rather than utilize a "catch-all" fluid that is often found in the market, all Edmac fluids are formulated, lab-tested and ultimately field-tested in each application to maximize protection and performance.

Liqgold Compressor Oil is a true OEM equivalent silicone compressor lubricant for 24KT, while other companies have not been able to duplicate the original 24KT.

Coolant 32 and Coolant 46 are of the same chemical formulation as Sullair Sullube and Ingersoll Rand Ultra Coolant and are an excellent alternative without compromising fluid quality.

LUBRICANTS

FEATURES

Features

High Viscosity Index
Wide Operating Temperature Range
Excellent Oxidation Stability
Low Volatility
Premium Anti-Wear Additives
Low Coefficient of Friction
Long Fluid Life

Benefits

Better lubrication and longer equipment life
Operational flexibility and improved safety
Extended fluid life in high temperature applications
Reduced oil consumption and carryover
Leading to increased equipment life
Increased energy savings and lower sound levels
Extended drain intervals and lower maintenance costs

Private Branding

For qualified customers, Edmac actively encourages the private labeling of all our standard product lines. Our private label program will help create and maintain your brand awareness and build a sense of identity which is designed to lead to increased, repeat sales.

We consider our private label program to be a partnership. The packaging and marketing is designed to ensure that your customers come back to you for their oil needs every time.

Premium Lubricants

- ISO 9001 Manufacturing
- True OEM Equivalents
- Solutions For All Applications
- True PAG & PAG Replacement

